A Note from Davette

At our Celebrating Community Philanthropy event last year, we showcased some examples of how people take an idea and create ways for many people to join them in their endeavor to better our community – they help people help others.

After the luncheon, Carol Jones contacted me about expanding an idea she had recently launched. During Lent last year, Carol decided to host a frugal meal in her home. A frugal meal is patterned after the Lenten tradition of having a meager meal and donating money to a charitable organization. Carol had a representative from her chosen organization, St. Vincent de Paul Society at her frugal meal to share about their work and the people they serve.

“This initiative encouraged people to prepare a simple meal and invite their guests to donate what they would have spent on a more sumptuous meal to a charity,” Carol noted.

Carol was thrilled with the response from people who attended her frugal meal and thought maybe other people would enjoy hosting a similar experience. With Carol’s passion and determination, in partnership with United Way of Central Kentucky, we were thrilled to work with 16 hosts to engage their guests with the mission of 13 organizations serving our community.

I enjoy hearing ideas like Carol’s for our community. What ideas do you have for our community? Our door is always open to hear ideas and explore possibilities.

KY Gives Day

Central Kentucky Community Foundation in partnership with the Kentucky Nonprofit Network is bringing KY Gives Day to our region. KY Gives Day is a statewide, 24-hour, online giving event raising funds and awareness for participating KY nonprofits. The 4th annual event is Tuesday, May 24, 2016. Through KY Gives Day, people will learn more about the vital work of specific organizations and be able to make gifts online to support their efforts.

A statewide prize pool and a regional prize pool is available to incentivize donors and organizations.

Let's Do Some Good Today

A new program, “Let’s Do Some Good Today” on HCEC- TV informs the community about the work of Central Kentucky Community Foundation. The program will be shown on HCEC-TV each month and will also be available at ckcf4people.org. The first episode aired in March to promote Inspire Women 2016, a women’s conference sponsored by Heels Together.

Each month, Let’s Do Some Good Today will feature the great works of those in the community who are coming together through Central Kentucky Community Foundation to make a lasting impact on our region now, and in the future.

Thanks to all of our scholarship reviewers for the generous gift of their time and expertise. We look forward to awarding scholarships to many local students to further their educational goals.
